Past Initiation Reflections

The Women have spoken.....

The Initiation was so big for me, I did it almost a year ago and I'm still processing it. It's beautiful, whole bodied and deep. Nurturing the Rite each month is incredibly special, an opportunity for me to connect with my blood and the earth on a new level.

12 moons ago I was initiated and what a journey it has been.

Reclaiming the essential rites of my womanhood has healed timelines across the universe of where my consciousness exists.

Returning back home to the divine manifestation of God, through the body of our divine mother Gaia will always be the foundational structure of what is still yet to be built and witnessed.

Returning back to my primordial essence was my soul's choice, in order to heal so my lineage can move forward in divine light. Authentic deep sisterhood is the rich soil of our manifestations here in our physical plane. •

This day, this experience, this sisterhood and teachings shifted my relationship with my womb, my body and the creation of life as a I knew it.

A powerful and potent remembrance of the journey of our wombs. The honouring and ceremony our wombs get to be.

Erin Frances facilitates with such grace, safety and creates a beautiful and powerful container to come home deeper to ourselves, our bodies, our womb.

I didn't know I needed this until I felt my body respond seeing her story on socials a couple of weeks before the training. Thankfully I listened to my body and the activation that my life and body was ready to take.

Thank you beautiful sister. So grateful for your work and how you show up in this world.

The experience of opening to Women Womb Energetics from The 13th Rite from The Shipibo Midwives of Peru has connected me deeply to my own creative journey. From this space I've been privileged enough to pass this onto others which has been such an expanded experience for me and all the wonderful women that were open to experience sacred ceremony. Seeing the results of deep embodiment consistently unfolding throughout each session has kept on changing lives.

What a beautiful well rounded skill set I now have, to service humanity.

Let the ripples flow out far and wide. What an honour it has been and continues to be. Truly a beautiful sacred experience.

What an incredible 13 moons it's been since I was initiated. The opening it's created within my own monthly shedding, awakening, and rebirthing. This initiation brought forth such deep resonance of untold stories, the ones you which you know are held deep within your ancestral blood line. This door opened, and so has my soul light, with each month that has sense past. Sharing this right, and adding my own medicine and channeling to this has brought new depth into the healing of each woman that I've shared it with since then. Opening the inner wisdom.

Thank you Erin.

I done this initiation with Erin Frances almost one year ago and my life has changed rapidly ever since.

I have healed childhood wounding, reconnected to my mother, I have opened up my creative flow and followed new passions and gained many new opportunities and I have unlocked so much around sexuality. Erin has been an ongoing support for me on my journey and I strongly recommend this initiation for any woman who wishes to be more connected with herself and therefore others.
